Missionaries to the Children of Colombia

Summer 2007

Our website has gone through many changes since our last newsletter!

It's been a busy and wonderful summer! We've spent a good part of this summer at Kid's Camp! Most of the children have never gone to camp before and for them every experience was a new one. Some ate their first hamburger at camp! The day time was filled with lots of music, obstacle courses and devotions. The evenings were focused on getting to know God more intimately. Many of the children asked Jesus into their hearts. Most of them had their first encounters with the Holy Spirit. One young boy reminded us that God listens to our prayers and responds to our faith. He went to camp believing that God was going to heal his eyes. He had very poor vision. The very first night of camp he prayed and his eyes were healed!

We've also been helping with Vacation Bible Schools. It was incredible to see our church packed out with hundreds and hundreds of kids! Every child left with a copy of the "Book of Hope" and a mission to tell their friends, families and neighbors about God.

Corey returned to the coast to continue construction on the LACC school in Cienaga. With great teams from California and South Carolina they were able to complete the exterior and interior walls on the second floor. A special thanks to the La Palma Christian Center and Orange County Worship Center who spent the days laboring in construction and the evenings evangelizing throughout the area.

On the home front things are going very well. Spanish study for the family has continued, but even with language barriers we have made amazing friends. Doors have begun opening in many areas allowing us to teach and share with people of all ages. Alex and Maggie are enjoying summer break and have had the opportunity to visit schools, VBS and camps with us to learn more about why we are here.

Thank you for your love, prayers and support!

Blessings,

Corey, Tona, Alex and Maggie Kautz
