Happy New Year! We hope you've had a wonderful start to 2007. We had such a blessed Christmas. Our family in Michigan and the incredible folks of Calvary Assembly of God showered Alex and Maggie with amazing gifts. We were in awe!

School is back in session here in Colombia. The normal school year goes from early February until mid-December. This is an exciting time because new students are joining LACC and it's time to go meet all of the new faces.

In March Corey will be heading back to the coastal town of Cienega to continue construction on the school there. He's also been busy designing a basic church structure that will be used to plant 12 new churches. Tona is working on getting together the information for all the new children in LACC schools so that sponsors can be found quickly for them. Alex and Maggie are enjoying school and making new friends.

We have been getting to know a few children's feeding and after school ministries throughout the city. The children we've met range in age from little tots to 17 year olds. Their backgrounds are astonishing: children of prostitutes, guerillas or parts of families that have been displaced by violence in the villages outside of the city.

We thank you for your prayers. Please continue to pray for direction. There is so much need in Colombia and we want to make sure that everything we do is following God's plan, that we don't allow ourselves to become pulled thin in so many directions that we become ineffective. We want to make the biggest impact possible here in Colombia in the ministries God has designed for us. Thank you for being part of our lives. We appreciate you!

Love,

Corey, Tona, Alex and Maggie Kautz
